EDUCATION

Central Washington University — Ellensburg, WA

Bachelor of Science in Computer Science | Expected: Spring 2028

SKILLS

Languages: Java, JavaScript, TypeScript, Python, C++, SQL

Core Competencies: Data Structures & Algorithms, Software Architecture, Object-Oriented Design, Debugging

Developer Tools & Databases: Git, GitHub, VS Code, Supabase, React

Certifications/Courses: AWS Cloud Practitioner Essentials

PROJECTS

Couple – TypeScript, React, Supabase, PostgreSQL, AWS Amplify

- Engineered a Progressive Web App (PWA) messaging website that enables paired users to send notes and images.
- Engineered quick message dispatching with Supabase Realtime and its AWS S3-compatible storage for low-latency image delivery.
- Enforced PostgreSQL and Row Level Security to ensure strict privacy between users.
- Configured automated build and deployment pipelines using AWS Amplify.

Workout Tracker – TypeScript, React, Supabase, SQL, AWS S3, CloudFront, Recharts

- Developed a full-stack workout tracking application featuring intuitive logging for users and historical data visualization via Recharts.
- Architected with Supabase and Row Level Security to create user-data isolation and deliver a responsive backend.
- Created and deployed global site hosting via AWS S3 and CloudFront.

Halloween – C++, Raylib

- Created an 8-direction player controller prototype with responsive movement.
- Managed custom collision logic and a range of different player states, including simulated z-positioning to allow for aerial movement.
- Produced to ensure modular architecture and optimized performance.

Drunkard's Walk – C++

- Constructed a level generation algorithm which produces an interconnected array of integers to represent a level layout using a random-walk approach.
- Introduces configurable parameters to allow users to fine-tune different layout results and get an ASCII visualization of the final 2D grid.
